

What's in YOUR Water?

Do you...

- Rely on a well, spring, or cistern?
- Ever wonder about the safety of your water?
- Want to learn more about maintaining your water system and keeping your water safe?
- Want to help others by sharing this information?

Join the Virginia Master Well Owner Network!

VOLUNTEER TRAINING WORKSHOP

SATURDAY September 18, 2010; 9 am – 4 pm

Pearisburg Community Center Cafeteria

1320 Wenonah Avenue

Pearisburg, VA

Visit www.wellwater.bse.vt.edu/become_a_mwo.php to apply or contact Erin Ling at 540-231-9058/wellwater@vt.edu

WHAT IS VAMWON?

We are a dedicated group of volunteers and Virginia Cooperative Extension agents who work to educate private water users across the state. We are looking for outgoing folks who would like to help people better understand and manage their private water supplies.

BENEFITS:

- Learn how to better manage your family's water quality and water system.
- Help others learn how to protect their water quality
- Free resource binder
- Free water conservation devices for your home and garden

WHAT IT TAKES:

- Visit our Private Water Supply Protection website (www.wellwater.bse.vt.edu) or call Erin at 540-231-9058 for a paper application.
- Review volunteer guidelines and fill out an online application
- Attend a training workshop – additional workshops will be held across Virginia

Virginia Cooperative Extension

A partnership of Virginia Tech and Virginia State University www.ext.vt.edu

Virginia Cooperative Extension programs and employment are open to all, regardless of race, color, national origin, sex, religion, age, disability, political beliefs, sexual orientation, or marital or family status. An equal opportunity/affirmative action employer. Issued in furtherance of Cooperative Extension work, Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University, Virginia State University, and the U.S. Department of Agriculture cooperating. Alan L. Grant, Dean, College of Agriculture and Life Sciences, and Interim Director, Virginia Cooperative Extension, Virginia Tech, Blacksburg; Wondi Mersie, Interim Administrator, 1890 Extension Program, Virginia State, Petersburg.